National Hospital Week Puts Spotlight on People

(YOUR CITY’S NAME) – A hospital is more than a place where people go to heal, it is a part of the community that fosters health and represents hope. From providing treatment and comfort to the sick, to welcoming new life into the world, hospitals are central to a healthy and optimistic community. That’s the message organizers are touting with the 2018 National Hospital Week theme “Caring is Our Calling.”

The event theme, announced this week, is the centerpiece of a promotional campaign aimed at uniting health care facilities across the country during the May 6–12 celebration.

“National Hospital Week, first and foremost, is a celebration of people,” [Name], administrator of [Name of facility], said. “We’re extremely proud of each member of our staff and we recognize the important role they play in extending a sense of trust to our patients and our communities.”

The nation's largest health care event, National Hospital Week dates back to 1921 when it was suggested by a magazine editor who hoped a community wide celebration would alleviate public fears about hospitals. The celebration, launched in Chicago, succeeded in promoting trust and goodwill among members of the public and eventually spread to facilities across the country.

A full slate of community activities is planned for 2018, including:

(SFX: Car starting, engine running)

ANNCR: “What’s the best thing about your car? I mean, it’s nice if it looks great, handles well and has plenty of power. But the best part is that it’s reliable transportation—it gets you where you need to go. It’s the same way with your local hospital. Sure, it’s an impressive building filled with amazing technology—but more importantly, it’s a place that takes us from illness to wellness. It’s reliable transportation on the road to recovery. Something to think about May 6–12 as facilities across the country celebrate National Hospital Week—Caring is Our Calling”

Ideas for Activities

Outreach

Public Outreach
Schools, clubs and senior groups benefit from a tour of your facility—and you benefit from greater exposure in the community. Arrange public tours through various departments and select friendly staff members to serve as guides. Decorate special stops on your tour with posters and/or balloons. Provide healthy refreshments, such as natural fruit juices, in stadium cups with the Hospital Week event logo and/or your facility logo printed on them.

The Run Way
Wellness is a smooth road—keep your community on it with a healthy 10k or fun run. During National Hospital Week, sponsor a running event to promote fitness and a healthier lifestyle. T-shirts or Fruit Infusers with the national event logo and your facility name make an excellent incentive for participants.

Calling All Docs
For National Hospital Week, work with a local TV or radio station to create a call-in show where your physicians can give callers advice and health information. Set up a table at the station (or at a local mall) and promote the event with printed health information, pamphlets, National Hospital Week buttons, and pens.

All’s Fair
A time-honored tradition, the health fair is a popular stop on any National Hospital Week itinerary. Plan a variety of fair booths where volunteers can distribute important wellness information and promotional items.

Inside EMS
Come one, come all—nothing brings a neighborhood together like the annual EMS Open House. It’s a wonderful way to instill trust in your community. Sporty and activity-related promotional items are particularly popular for EMS events. From the 2018 product guide, consider the Drawstring Sport Bag, Duffels or the Mix & Match Colorful T-Shirts.

Promotion

Media Kits
Prepare your National Hospital Week news release and send it to TV stations, radio stations and local newspapers announcing your theme and events. Include Posters, Buttons, Ballpoint Stylus Pens and T-Shirts in your media packets.

Public Service Announcements
Work with area TV and radio stations to produce Public Service Announcements (PSAs) that can be aired before and during National Hospital Week. Thank station managers and production personnel by presenting them with event T-Shirts, Non-Woven Grocery Totes, and Magnetic Memo Clips.

Enter the Celebration
Announce your celebration to everyone who enters your facility with a colorful balloon arch. Decorate your entrances with Balloons during National Hospital Week and plan a rally outside on the first day of the event inviting local media for the photo opportunity. Make the photo something special by outfitting your staff with event Classic T-Shirts and Buttons.

Facility Enrichment
Decorate your lobby, waiting rooms and community areas with Mylar Balloons, Colorful Balloons and Posters. Next, make sure each area has a supply of Mini Slingbag First Aid Kits, Gripper Pens, and Jotters.
The Home Front
Provide your home care professionals with T-Shirts, Everyday Duffels, Urban Messenger Bags and Badge Holders as part of your National Hospital Week celebration. Make sure they have a supply of Buttons and Coin Pouches to distribute to clients.

Make It Official
Request an official proclamation commemorating National Hospital Week from your mayor, city council or county commission. (Also, send a letter to your state representative requesting that a proclamation be read by the governor.) Give a copy of the proclamation to each staff member along with Badge Holders, Buttons and T-Shirts.

Gratitude

The Gift of Pride
Show your pride in your staff by distributing Insulated Coolers filled with gifts of appreciation. Include gift certificates, movie passes, Badge Holder, T-Shirt, and an Acrylic Tumbler.

Paycheck Stuffers
Start your National Hospital Week celebration right with a message of gratitude. It's easy to do—a handy Paycheck Stuffer ensures your appreciation is as close as a pay envelope. Have management distribute the envelopes personally along with a Sports Duffel, or Drawstring Bag.

Gift Baskets
Your administrators and directors deserve a pat on the back—and a little something extra. A gift basket filled with movie passes, gift certificates, golf items, a T-Shirt, Fruit Infuser Tumbler and a signed note card is a thoughtful way to make them part of the festivities.

New Moms
When a baby is born at your facility during National Hospital Week, give the new mom a festive Balloon bouquet. Make it part of a package that includes a Recycable/Reusable Tote filled with a Mini Slingbag First Aid Kit and Magnetic Memo Clips.

Patient Tray Treats
Don't forget your patients—they're an important part of National Hospital Week, too. Add a Car Charger and Memo Clip Jotter to each dinner tray during this very special week. Include a supply of Sticky Notes and Comfort Grip Pens.
